PROFILE

I am a third year student, currently studying at Parsons School of Design. I am curious, diligent, detail-oriented, and eager to learn. My early background is in fine arts but I've been exploring a lot of and have substantial experience in design and technologies as well. I'm interested in, the web, interactions, games, storytelling, and designing the visual communication of it all. Outside of art I like handcrafts, reading, thinking, and problem solving. I've worked and created with a multitude of media from the traditional to hardware, software, and just anything that delivers my ideas.
